THE POST ANNOUNCEMENT.

This paper will not be sent in future to any except to those who pay in advance for it. We find it so hard to collect back subscriptions that we are compelled to follow the rule long since laid down by other papers, to send only to paying subscribers, or to those who are willing to pay in advance for it. Send in your money and you can get the Post, not otherwise. One dollar will pay for the Post six months, two dollars for twelve months. No less than six months time received.

There are very many congressmen still laying around Washington.

The Union League of America will meet in Philadelphia on Saturday next. A full meeting is expected, as important business will be attended to.

The city election, for ten aldermen, comes off on Thursday next, the 22nd day of the month. The new board of aldermen will meet the following day and elect one of their number to act as mayor, who will serve for two years.

U. S. SUPREME COURT DECISION.

During the last canvass, the Democratic party speakers argued that Democrats must be elected to congress to prevent the holders of the state bonds from pressing the state to pay them through the U. S. Supreme Court; but that court has just rendered a decision in which the court says that one state cannot sue another. What will the Democrats start next?

Newspaper Men to the Front.

Messrs. E. G. Dunnell, of the N. Y. Times, E. J. Edwards, of the N. Y. Sun and F. P. Powers, of the Chicago Times, three as clever gentlemen as ever shoved a quill for any paper, were in our city on Friday last, returning from the wedding of Senator Davis. It is by just such energetic men as these that the world is kept posted of the important news that transpire each day. We are glad of any events that will bring to our city such splendid fellows. We hope they will repeat their visit.

THE RACE PROBLEM AND NEGRO EDUCATION.

Our friend Mr. J. F. Murrell of the Western Carolinian, has the best article we have seen from any Democratic paper in the state, on the above subject of educating the colored people, and had we space we would publish it in full. We are unable to see how any one can make up an honest argument on the other side of the question. The man must be a fool or knave who desires to keep the colored race in ignorance, and we can't for our life make up our mind that the editor of the Caucasian is a fool, therefore he must be afflicted with the other disease. The colored people ought to be, and must be, educated, and it is the duty of the whites to see to it and place them in a condition to become good and useful citizens.

Captain E. M. Rosafy, who has been a life long Republican, who served throughout the late war in the Union army with great distinction, is spoken of for the position of secretary to the civil service board. He would make a very proper appointment—he speaks at least seven languages fluently. He is very popular with all classes of our people, particularly so with the Republicans. We know of no man who could be recognized by the authorities that would give such universal satifaction in this state as that of Captain Rosafy. We all want him promoted and hope to see it done very soon. At the same time it will be highly appreciated by the Grand Army of the Republic, of which Captain R. is an honored and respected member. Every brave confederate soldier in the south will be glad to hear of the appointment of Captain Rosafy.

STATE NEWS.

Hon. J. E. O'Hara, member of congress from the 2d District, went to Washington on Thursday last on business for his district.

The legislature has finally adjourned for good; the people of the state should give thanks and pray God never to be cursed by another legislature of the kind.

We notice that some of our exchanges say that the late C. N. B. Evans was the oldest editor in the state. There is a mistake, if the date of Mr. Evans' birth is correct, in 1812. The editor of the American had the advantage of him by four years, being born in 1808, and a native of Chatham county, this state.—Statesville American.

Col. Keogh, says the Patriot of Tuesday has filed his bond as Marshal of the western district of North Carolina, and it has been approved by Chief Justice Waite. To day the oath of office was administered by Judge Dick and he was formally inducted into office.—Winston Republican.

The worst impudence ever known is for a North Carolina bourbon journal to sling the epithet of "repudiation" at Virginia, when Virginia assumes her whole just debt, while North Carolina has settled her debt of over $27,000,000 with millions of interest, by an issue of less than $4 000,000 of per cent. bonds! The Fayetteville (N. C.) Observer says that it is the pot denouncing soot! or words to that effect. Richmond Whig.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Mar. 15, 1883.

S. VANAMRINGE ESQ., JUDGE OF PROBATE, NEW HANOVER COUNTY.

DEAR SIR:—I am in receipt of your letter of the 10th inst., informing me of my appointment to the office of Justice of Peace. Thanking you for the compliment you have paid me by deeming me worthy of the office, I do respectfully decline, and ask you to appoint in my stead some one who can give more time to the business than I can afford at present, and thereby hold the office with more credit to himself and honor to the state, I am well aware that you can find one just as worthy.

Very respectfully,

JNO. H. HOWE.

A hunter fired at bird as it flew over the dooryard of an Arkansaw residence. A boy that was playing around was struck by a couple of shot and his loud cries brought the farmer to the scene. "What have you done?" he demanded of the hunter, drawing a revolver. "I beg ten thousand pardons," exclaimed the hunter. "In my eagerness to secure the bird, I fired thoughtlessly, and and I fear I have seriously wounded your son." "Sos!" said the old man, "I thought that you had hit my dog. Mind how you shoot around here, for if you put a shot into that dog I'll cut off both your ears."—Arkansaw Traveller.

City Items.

To The City Subscribers.

Don't fail to have your money ready for I shall call on you at once for the money you are due for the POST.

PROVIDENPE BRYANT, JR.

The magistrates seems to have been very busy lately.

Let every Republican in the city register,

The cotton compresses of this city are still running.

Register yourself and see that your neigbor does likewise.

Hon. R. R. Bridgers, went to Atlanta Friday last on business.

Thanks to friend McRae of Wadesboro, for valuable services in behalf of the POST.

Winter has passed away, and we will probably have our usual spring weather.

An entire new reistration, if you do not register you cannot vote.

The Democrats repudiated all of the old board of aldermen, they refused to nominate a single member of the old board.

Loss by Floods, $30,000,000.

When the total loss by recent floods in the Ohio and Mississipi Valleys have been approximated, $30,000,000 will hardly cover it. The brightest feature amongst such misery and ruin has been the spontaneous charity shown by our people. None have contributed more generously than the Commonwealth Distribution Co. To those who have given, to those who have lost and to all others this Company offers another grand drawing in Louisville, Ky., March 31st, 1883, $112,400 distributed in 1960 prizes. Capital prize $30,000. Tickets only $2. Send your orders to R. M. Boardman, Louisville Ky.

Republicans it is your duty to register, your vote may do good.

Independents are springing up in all parts of the city.

Hon. E. E. Green, one of the representatives from this county, returned to the city last week.

Captain Alvis Walker, the efficient superintendent of this sleeping car division, went to Washington on Thursday last, on a business visit.

We have received the April number of the North American Review with the letter of Senator John A. Logan, which we shall publish in our next issue.

Mayor Smith, whose term expires on Friday next, has made a very satisfactory mayor, and we hope he will continue to enjoy the good things of life.

Mr. James Hutchins, the efficient and popular Deputy of the city post-office, was visited a few days ago by his brother, late of New Jersey, but now of Columbus county.

The old ferry boat at market dock would be a disgrace to Washington Territory. It is the same kind that was on the river when Lord Cornwallace crossed over the Cape Fear upwards of a hundred years ago.

William Devane has resigned the postmastership at Nat Moore, Bladen county, and Charles Corbett appointed; and John B. Cole has resigned as postmaster at Brains Creek, Moore county, and Jasper Comness has been appointed.

Mr. S. P. Lewis, mate of the schooner Alice Hearn, Capt. Pennewell, which arrived here from Baltimore on March 1st, with a cargo of coal and guano, died at the Mt. Tirzah hospital, about for miles below this city, on Tuesday night.

The Rt. Rev. Theodore Lyman, D.D., Bishop of the Diocese of North Carolina, is expected to visit St. Mark's Church, corner of 6th and Mulberry streets, and administer the rite of confirmation on Monday evening, March 19th. Services to commence at eight o'clock. A general invitation is extended. Seats free.

The newspaper delegation that visited our city on Friday last, visited Mr. Alfred Martin's distillery, and through the courtesy of Captain Maffitt made a thorough inspection of the manner of getting the spirits out of the raw turpentine. Mr. Martin has a splendid lot of stills, and all of his arrangements are first class, and the gentlemen of the press went away very much pleased at their visit.

Personals.

Hon. R. K. Bryant, late of the Fayetteville Examiner, was in the city a few days ago.

Editor Hill, of the colored Independent of Wilson, N. C., was in our city Thursday last on business.

Hon. J. Don Cameron, is in Florida with his family. The Senator is very rapidly recovering his health.

Col. O. H. Blocker has been sick for the past month, at his plantation near the city of Fayetteville, but is improving.

Mr. A. V. Horrell has purchased the old stand occupied by the late John Carroll, where he will be glad to see his old friends.

Ex Senator David Davis, of Ill., passed through this city Thursday morning from Fayetteville with his bride, bound for Florida.

The Wilson Independent has nominated Hon. D. L. Russell, as the next Republican and coalition candidate for Governor of North Carolina.

The Newbern Banner says Hon. Orlando Hubbs has returned to his home looking well, after his arduous labors as representative in congress.

Mr. E. A. Oldham, late of the New South, will start a paper in Winston in a few days. Mr Oldham is a good newspaper man and we wish him financial success in life.

Hon. John C. Dancy has started a paper in Tarboro. If any colored man in the state can make a paper a success he can. He is a young man of energy, integrity and ability.

Representative R. Beverly Frayser, of Pender county, has been in our city the past week. He does not appear to be in very good health. He has made a very faithful representative.

Mr. B. L. Perry, of the Purcell House of this city, has we learn, leased the Seaside Hotel at the Sound. He intends to make very many needed improvements and run a first-class house.

We had the pleasure the past week of welcoming back senators Scott and representative Waddell of New Hanover county. They have not expressed any great amount of enthusiasm over the legislature.

Things look very calm around the court house and city hall. Not much for those officers.

W. E. Sellers, who was for many years connected with this paper, died on Monday, 5th inst. from consumption. He was a long and very patient sufferer. He was a very industrious, reliable, good man. He had very many friends in this city who sincerely sympathize with his wife and family in their loss—but their loss is his gain.

Democratic city nominations for Aldermen on Wednesday last were made as follows:

Messrs. Boney and Hall, for the Second Ward.

Messrs. Bear and Dudley, for the Third Ward.

Messrs. Fishblate and DeRosset, for the Fourth Ward.

The hair pulling will commence Thursday morning next and end about 3 o'clock on Friday. It is not our funeral and we take no stock in the fight. Hope the best man will be elected mayor of the city. Messrs Chadbourn, Sweat, Howe and Guyer will be the Republican representatives and will take care of the city's interest.

"Those Pretty St George Girls," now in press and shortly to be issued by T. B Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia, treats of fashionable life in London, picturing the details of a London "season," with its aristocratic flirtations, followed by sketches of life of the English Nobility and those associated with them at the centers of English fashionable life on the Continent. Glimpses of London Clubs and Club men, also an exciting fox hunt, and the races at Ascot, give variety to the development of the story, in which, of course, there is an element of romance and true love, to which fashionable follies serve as the foil. The dialogue is exceedingly brilliant and witty. The author of the story is a lady of prominence in New York society.

Republicans if you fail to register you cannot vote at the approaching city election.

PETERSON'S MAGAZINE for April is is already on our table, as welcome as the flowers of Spring, and quite as fresh and beautiful. The embellishments, as usual, are very fine, particularly the steel-plate, "A Modern Cinderella"; the colored steel fashion-plate; and the colored pattern in crewels, a bunch of dog daises. But the specialty of the number is its stories, which, though always superior in "Peterson," are better this month than ever. Mr. Benedict's novelet, "A Professional Beauty," is alone worth the subscription price. Then there is one of "Josiah Allen's Wife's" humorous sketches. "In Kittery," by the author of "The Second Life," is also such as one rarely reads. The illustrated story, "My First Ball-Dress," is charmingly told; and so is the romantic "Modern Cinderella." All the Spring fashions are given in advance, and the fashion cuts, work-table cuts, etc., etc., are without number. No lady should be without this magazine. It is not too late to subscribe for 1883, as all the back numbers can be supplied, if desired. The price is but two dollars, and to clubs it is much cheaper. Specimens are sent, gratis to those wishing to get up clubs, and handsome premiums are given for getting them up. Subscribe at once. Address CHAS. J. PETERSON, 306 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

You are not compelled to give the number of your block and lot at this registration.

A $10,000 Romance!

A true romance in real life recently took place in Louisville, Ky. The circumstances were these: Miss Alcene Vanderespt, the beautiful and accomplished daughter of our well known and esteemed druggist, had a well known young gentlemen, also of Louisville, paying her attentions, and both being possessed of speculative spirit, and unknown to the other, purchased a $1 ticket in the Commonwealth Distribution Company. It so happened that each took a half ticket with the same number, and when the drawing terminated they had drawn $5,000 each, their number having drawn the $10,000 prize. When the young gentleman called to tell his good fortune, his surprise was great to find his sweetheart was also entitled to congratulations. Of course, a wedding soon followed, for it was self-evident they were intended for each other, and the young gentleman is now the owner of a prosperous business, and at his request we refrain from giving his name also. Now let all young gentlemen and ladies go and do likewise. Next drawing, Saturday, March 31st, 1,900 prizes, $112,400. Capital prize, $30,000. Tickets only $2. Send your order immediately to R. M. Boardman, Louisville, Ky.

The value of an article is almost always indicated by its price, and for years the people were content to pay $3 for a genuine Livermore Stylographic Pen, and the same pens are yet doing good service. The success of these pens led unscrupulous persons to get up inferior imitations, which they offered at such low prices that many persons, not understanding the difference, were induced to buy them. The Livermore Company therefore cut down the price of their short plain Pens to $2, and short gold mounted to $2.50 each, to give everybody a chance to have the best article of the kind. You can buy them for that money by remitting the amount to LOUIS E. DUNLAP, Manager Stylographic Pen Co., 290 Washington Street, Boston; the pen together with a package of superior ink, will be sent by return mail, and the money will be at once refunded if they do not prove to be perfect and satisfactory in every respect. The Stylographic Pen Co., who manufacture the Livermore Pen, is the largest concern of the kind in the world, with branches at New York, Chicago and London, Eng. The Livermore Stylographic Pen is a pencil which writes ink, never needs sharpening and never wears out, and has been adopted by over 500,000 knights of the quill in this country and abroad. The Stylographic Pen Co., have recently been making great improvements in their famous pen. Full particulars can be obtained by sending for circular.

"L'EVANGELISTE," fresh from the pen of that charming French novelist, Alphonse Daudet, is a romance that everybody not only ought to read, but will read. It is the reigning and all-absorbing literary sensation of two continents, and its wonderful fascination is of a kind peculiar to itself. From the first attention is aroused, and the interest deepens all the way along until the exceedingly dramatic climax is reached. In it Daudet takes up the cudgels against the Salvation Army, denouncing it as "The Anglican Pest." He exposes the doings of the revivalists, lays bare their methods of converting people, and shows the ravages of so-called religious ecstasy in the gay capital of France, trailing with fanaticism as a nervous and mental disease. The book is a book of real life, founded on facts developed in Mr. Daudet's own household, and dealing with actualities [illegible] an impressionable Parisienne, who from association with the revivalist becomes convinced that God has called her and that she has a mission.

J. M. McArthor, a prominent colored merchant of Shoe Heel, died at his residence of typhoid pneumonia, March 9th, at 5 o'clock A. M. Deceased was a member of the Methodist Church and died as such, having faith in Christ his Saviour, said he was at peace with all on earth, and on his departure would meet his God in peace. He was attended by Dr. W. L. Byrns, who gave him his undivided attention during his illness, which was about one month. His body was committed to mother earth on 10th inst., with honors. J. S. HENDERSON, Pastor.

FAYETTEVILLE OBSERVER.

On Thursday, February 8th, 1883, the undersigned will revive the publication of the FAYETTEVILLE OBSERVER.

The OBSERVER will be a large 28 column weekly newspaper, and will be mailed to subscribers, postage paid, at $2 per annum, always in advance. It will give the news of the day in as ample form as its space will permit and both regular and occasional correspondents will contribute letters from the Capital on state politics and affairs.

Democratic in politics, the OBSERVER will labor, first of all, to assure the prosperity of the town of Fayetteville, to develop the vast agricultural resources of its own and the neighboring counties, and to promote all that concerns the welfare of the people of North Carolina.

Opposed to such innovations on the honest ways of our fathers as, in the guise of progress, harm society, the OBSERVER will be found in full sympathy with the new things born of the changed condition of the south which sound judgement or enlightened experience find to be also good.

As to the rest: it will strive to deserve the reputation of the name it inherits.

THE WILMINGTON POST.

W. P. CANADAY, Proprietor.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

SUNDAY MORNING, MARCH 18, 1883.

The next U. S. Senate will meet the first of December next, and elect a secretary, a Chief and Executive Clerk and Sergeant-at-Arms. The east has the President pro tem., the middle states claim the Executive Clerk, the west the Chief Clerk, the Pacific slope the Secretary and the south will claim the Sergeant-at-Arms. This will be nothing but equity, and we have no doubt the Senate will want to be perfectly fair with all sections.

HON. ED. W. M. MACKEY.

The gentleman whose name heads this article is the Representative from the Charleston, S. C., district in Congress. He has been three times in Congress, and has just been re elected for a fourth term. The state of South Carolina never had a more faithful and energetic Representative in the halls of Congress than Mr. Mackey. Though only thirty-six years of age, he has held many responsible positions; having been for four years Assistant U. S. District Attorney for his state, once Speaker of the House of Commons of South Carolina, Sheriff of the county of Charleston, and as above six years in Congress. He was also tendered by President Hayes the Chief Justiceship of the territories. Senator Butler told him if he would accept it that the Senate should confirm him without referring his name to a committee.

But few men have obtained such distinguished honors so early in life as has Mr. Mackey; but few men have merited them. Besides his energy and industry he is a man of fine abilities, his management of the interest of North and South Carolina, in having rice properly protected in the new tariff bill could not have been excelled. His speech concerning the tariff on molasses was brief and showed great ability But the master stroke of all was the fact that he prevented the duty being increased on cotton ties. We say without hesitation, and we know whereof we speak, had it not been for Mr. Mackey the tariff would have been more than doubled on cotton ties.

He has been in public life since the war, even before he was of age, and during all of the corruptions in South Carolina by the Democrats as well as Republicans since the war, and a great many public men have been tempted and fallen, but Mr. Mackey has stood out as one of natures' noblemen, and not one cent has been traced to him. He has been one of the boldest and out-spoken Republicans in the state, which caused the Democrats to hunt him down with their blood hound investigating committees, but the verdict was always in his favor. No man stands better for honesty, integrity and ability, than Hon. E. W. M. Mackey, of Charleston, S. C.

DECEPTION.

Our friend the Newbernian always strikes things square between the eyes, and in the article below he makes an exceedingly good hit. Latham is one of the best writers in the state. Read the article.

"During the last campaign the most important question, the most engrossing, was that of county governments; it was the vital issue and was freely discussed from the mountains to the seaboard, in the presence of this question all others sank into insignificance, it was indeed paramount. Every Democratic paper in the state, that had an opinion and dared express it, declared and affirmed that the system was defective and should be amended in some particulars, so declared all the speakers and so declared all the candidates. The western and the eastern people alike understood that when the legislature assembled, some legislation would be had in relation to this all important matter of county governments. Well, the legislature has assembled, has done its work and has adjourned, and not the remotest move was made in relation to county governments. The people have been cajoled and deceived and disappointed, and this the Democracy call sharp practice and a shrewd political trick; honesty has been forgotten and consistency ignored. How long the people will patiently stand and see themselves made the playthings of designing politicians, how long they will submit to having their every right trampled upon and their will, wishes and desires set at naught by corrupt, selfish and designing leaders, perhaps the campaign of next year may tell. But is not this action of the legislature in strict keeping with Democratic truth and consistency, is it not in accord with all their latter day habits, manners and customs? The very papers that admitted the need and counseled the amending of the present system of county governments, after they saw the legislature was not in the humor or temper to keep the promises made to the people on the hustings, had the brazen assurance and consummate impudence to felicitate themselves and congratulate their readers, because indeed there would be no change in the county government system. We too congratulate ourself, for had the legislature kept its promise, it would have robbed the Liberal party of its chief cause of complaint and so compassed its death, while at the same time it would have strengthened the Democratic party in the confidence of the people and given it a farther lease of power. As it is, the Liberal party is supplied afresh with ammunition and the volume of its thunder added to. In 1884 all along the line the word will be passed, strike for the peoples' rights, down with the present county governments and forever have done with Democratic duplicity.

The Southern Exposition.

The following letter has been received by the General Manager from the Commissioner of Agriculture at Washington:

U. S. DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 28, 1883.—DEAR SIR: I am in receipt of yours of the 19th inst., setting forth the objects and purposes of the Southern Exposition, to open at Louisville on the 1st of August prox.

I deem it my duty, as it is my pleasure to extend the sympathy and lend the aid of this department in any effort to develop and promote the interests of agriculture in this country.

A successful exposition, which furnishes opportunities for comparison of methods, practices and products, and an interchange of opinions and experiences as between manufacturers and producers, cannot fail to enhance all interests represented therein—especially those of agriculture—and deserves, therefore, universal encouragement.

I deem your project a worthy one, and bespeak for you such co operation from the agricultural sections and agricultural associations as shall make the proposed Exposition eminently successful. Very respectfully,

GEORGE B. LORING,
Commissioner of Agriculture.

J. M. WRIGHT, Gen. Man. Louisville, Ky.

An Unknown Speaker of the House of Representatives.

In the House lobby back of the speaker's desk is an incomplete collection of portraits of speakers of the past. All are labelled with the correct names except one. This is the second picture on the right hand side of the lobby as you go in from the west. No one apparently knows who this represents beyond the fact that he was once speaker. The oldest citizen has vainly struggled to identify him Unknown, the face of the man who once held the third office in the United States gazes calmly down upon the procession passing him in a maddening rush for political fame.

For the Wilmington Post,

PENDER county, March 14, 1883.

Perhaps, Mr. Editor, it may not be amiss for one who has always sympathized with the yeomanry of the country to make a few homely suggestions on the subject of inferior courts, especially since he learns that the establishment of one is contemplated in the county of Pender. He really cannot see the good to be accomplished by such courts, and it is to get light, rather than try to give, that induces him to the present task. His own ideas are perhaps wrong, for he not only thinks, but dares express his apprehensions, of the peril in which the welfare of the people may be placed by such an institution. Let us see: The superior court judges are men of the highest intelligence, ripest experience and most unblemished integrity, and yet for fear that some injury may be done the good people of the state they are not allowed to remain in the district in which they are elected, but rotate and alternate throughout the entire state, in order not only to escape censure, but to preclude the idea of even the possibility of their doing a willful wrong. The mode and manner of their holding court is sanctioned and approved by the wisdom of the state—all regard the arrangement as almost perfect, and certainly as indispensable. Then how can the inferior courts give satisfaction? The judges taken from the very people over whom they have to preside, perhaps one-half relations to them, or most intimate friends, how can they escape the charge of partiality and injustice? and who must suffer most by this change? The poor man who is not able to appeal (except as a pauper) to the superior courts. The more highly favored will be but slightly inconvenienced by them, as they can easily go to a higher tribunal.

Respectfully, SENEX.

The Meaning of "Masher."

A great deal of time is misspent at present in conjectures as to the origin of the familiar slang word "masher." As usual in questions of philology the inquiry is being pursued through a maze of words instead of by studying the characteristics of the object named. The manner and actions of the being called a "masher" show conclusively how the word originated. It was not derived from the French ma chere or mon cher—"my dear," because the masher never possesses qualities that make him dear to any one but his tailor or landlady. Nor can the word be traced to the Italian maschera, which signifies a mask, for the masher is never wise enough to mask his purpose; the Italian massajo is equally unsatisfactory, for one of its meanings is a good husband, which no masher was ever known to be. The German maesche, or mesh, does not answer the purpose, for the masher is mentally as unequal to the use of meshes as of masks. The Spanish machaca seems at first sight to throw a little light on the subject, for it signifies a bore, which the masher always is to members of his own sex. The Portugese massarra comes nearer the truth, for it signifies a disgrace or a suspicion of infamy. The real derivation of the word, however, as indicated by the doings of the masher himself, is from the vigorous old English word "mash," which means to bruise or crush. Some varieties of men accomplish their purposes, good or bad, by methods that imply the possession of brains, but the masher succeeds otherwise. Hence his distinctive title.

CHAS. W. DABNEY, Director.

SENATOR SABIN.

The New Senator from Minnesota—The Manner of Man He Is—A Sketch of His Career—His Fortune.

Senator-elect Dwight M. Sabin, of Minnesota, the successor of Hon. William Windom in the upper house, is in this city for a brief stay, preparatory to an extended visit to the south, where he proposes to spend some weeks in recruiting his health, which has been somewhat worn down by his ardious labors of the past winter. A representative of The National Republican called at the Riggs house yesterday and was accorded an interview with the talented young representative of "L'Etoile-du-Nord," and in a long and pleasant chat gleaned the following facts in regard to his early history:

Dwight May Sabin was born in the little village of Marseilles, La Salle county, Ill., April 25, 1844. His father was a stalwart son of Connecticut, of Scotch descent, and his mother "a Webster," descended from that branch of the family that settled at Fredonia, in the state of New York.

The early life of young Sabin did not differ greatly from that of the other lads who first saw light in the "Sucker state," except, perhaps, that he displayed great energy and judgement in directing the affairs of the farm, which were at last left entirely in his care.

In the year 1857, owing to certain family reasons, the entire Sabin household removed to Windham county, in the eastern portion of the state of Connecticut, where grandfather Sabin then resided. Here young Dwight, at the age of 18 attended the noted Phillips academy at Andover, when he devoted himself most enthusiastically to mathematics and engineering. It may be here said that this was the extent of the senator's academic education.

The war was then in progress, and there were frequent and urgent calls for more troops. In July, 1863, Mr. Sabin left for the front. He joined the army at Gettysburg, Pa., and expected to be appointed a lieutenant in the celebrated 8th Illinois cavalry under Col. Farnsworth. Something occurred to delay this, however, and in the meantime he was offered and accepted the position of aid to Dr. A. Hard, the medical director of Gen. Pleasanton's calvary corps. He served through all of the many cavalry engagements of the Maryland campaign, and endured the killing hardships around Fredericktown, where the weeks of steady, drenching rain and unfathomable mud will be remembered by all who participated in the service there. This exposure resulted in a long and dangerous illness, which forced Mr. Sabin to leave the service. In October, 1863, he came to Washington and was appointed to a $1,200 clerkship in the office of the third auditor of the Treasury department. He occupied this position only about eight months, when he was called home to Connecticut to attend the deathbed of his father.

By the death of his father Mr. Sabin was left, at the early age of 20, as the head of his family. He resigned his position in Washington and proceeded to devote himself to managing the Connecticut farm and the establishment of a large and prosperous wood and lumber business. In 1867 he returned to Illinois, and, after disposing of the family property there, made his first visit to Minnesota in company with several gentlemen who have since been prominently identified with the important manufacturing interests of that state. In April, 1868, Mr. Sabin again visited Minnesota, and this time with the intention of permanently taking up his residence in the state. Shortly after this he entered into business arrangements with G. M. Seymour, of Stillwater' Minn., which resulted in the formation of the firm of Seymour, Sabin & Co. From that date Mr. Sabin has been identified with a number of enterprises, all of which under his management have grown to vast proportions and which have added millions to the fortunes of those interested. In 1870 he was married to Miss Ella Amelia Hutchins, of Norwich. Since that time Mr. Sabin has been, both in business and in politics, one of the most successful men in his state. He was elected state senator in 1879, re-elected in 1871, and up to the time of his eledtion as United States senator had served in the upper house of the legislature almost continuously. Personally Mr. Sabin is a gentleman of strking features. He is above the medium height, with dark complexion, almost jet black hair, and very dark, brown eyes. His long, drooping moustache, square, firm face, and the peculiar manner in which his hair is arranged, makes him wonderfully resemble Senator John A. Logan, of Illinois. While the extent of Senator Sabin's fortune is a matter upon which he does not couverse and regards it as only of interest to himself, yet it may be stated that he will not probably come to want under the increase in his household expenses by a change of residence to this city. He is the president of and a large stockholder in the Northwestern Manufacturing and Car company of Stillwater, Minn., with a capital of $5,000,000; owns a controlling interest in a lumber company, representing an investment of $1,500,000, and is the proprietor of an undivded interest in miles of pine lands that are roughly estimated to be worth $2,000,000. Besides this he has a number of side investments in flour mills, grain elevators, railroads, &c., that contribute to swell his annual income to a point where it requires six good round figures to express it.

Said She Couldn't, and Could't.

She had been taking music lessons for fifteen years, so when they asked her to play we naturally expected a treat.

"You really must excuse me, I am entirely out of practice."

"Oh, do play, Miss Toots."

"But I never play without my notes."

"Now, Miss Toots, you're so unkind and we are all dying to hear you."

"I should be delighted, but really I—"

But they insisted, and she was finally prevailed upon to seat herself at the piano. And when it was too late, and after she had begun to knock down and drag out poor old "Heavenward," they discovered that she was out of practice, and that she couldn't play without her notes, or with them either, some of the people who had coaxed her into it were mean enough to say. The moral is contained in the following from the Detroit Free Press: "When a lady who has been taking music lessons for the past eight years hangs back and blushes and says she really can't play, don't insist on it. The chances are she can't."

Too True, Too True.

Man that is married to woman is of many days and full of trouble. In the morning he draws his salary, and in the evening behold it is all gone. It is a tale that is told, it vanisheth, and no one knoweth whither it goeth. He rueth up clothed in the chilly garments of the night and seeketh the somnolent paregoric wherewith to heal the colicky bowels of his offspring. He imitateth the horse or ox, and draweth the chariot of his posterity. He spendeth his shekels in the purchase of fine linen and purple, to cover the bosom of his family, yet he himself is seen at the gates of the city with one suspender. He cometh forth as a flower, and is cut down. There is hope of a tree when it is cut down that the tender roots thereof will sprout again, but man goeth to his home, and what is he then? Yea, he is altogether wretched.

The state courts of Georia sustain the railroad commission of that state in enforcing rates as against the Georgia railroad; the case will probably go to U. S. Supreme Court.

A WOMAN'S EXPERIENCE.

What a Lady of Great Prominence has to say about her Sex

(Boston Globe.)

On a recent trip by a representative of this paper to the city of Haverhill, Mass., a most important incident occurred, which cannot fail to be of the greatest interest to all, and especially to our lady readers. The newspaper man met a lady a trifle past middle age with luxurious white hair that constrasted strikingly with piercing black eyes. She possessed a straight, full habit, womanly, but commanding, combined with manners wholly lady-like, and yet pronounced. Any acute judge of human nature could see at once that he was in the presence of an unusual personage—one destined to accomplish more than most of her sex, an influence far reaching in its power. This lady was Mrs. M. W. Wingate. Almost from childhood she has taken a special interest in the bodily trouble of her sex and has probably been more successful in relieving suffering and saving lives than any other woman in America. Indeed, she seems to have been to women what Florence Nightengale and Dorothy Dix were to the suffering soldiers. The instances of women who were in the greatest agony and apparently beyond the reach of human aid, that she has restorad to health and happiness, are almost innumerable, and it was only natural that the scribe should become specially interested and wish to converse with her more in detail.

"How long havn you been engaged in the practice of medicine Mrs. Wingate?"

"For more than 25 years."

"A long time certainly. How did you happen to enter the field at that early day when women in the profession were specially frowned down upon?"

"I think I must have inherited a taste from my father, Prof J. C. Wood, of Harvard college. He was eminent in the profession, a hard worker, and equally earnest in his recreations. He hunted considerably and I remember when only nine years old I used to dissect the birds and animals he had killed. I felt infatuatde with medical science, even then and the infatuation has continued up to the present time."

"And did you begin your studies so early in life?"

"I can hardly say when I began, for I cannot remember when I did not read medical literature. You would scerely believe it, but I was a slender girl, and did not weigh over 120 pounds but I used to sit up night after night until 2 o'clock in the morning poring over my studies and never dreaming of the flight of time. It seemed as though calls for my attendance on the sick always came unsolicited. I certainly cannot fix the date when I first began practicing. Of course most of my patients were women, and the natural sympathy I felt for my sex has increased during all these years where I have been brought so closely in contact with them and have learned to anticipate their needs and sympatize with their sufferings. After the opening of the Boston Medical College I appeared before the faculty; passed examination and received a diploma. I had practiced for years previous to that time but thought it desirable to receive another diploma, which I did without any effort."

"Your experience with the many and serious diseases of women having been so extensive must also be valuable? Can you give me some facts regarding them?"

"I find that woman seems born to suffering, and where she avoids it, it is by reason of some care on her part or owing to some special renewing power. It is true some women go through life witout unusual sufferiug, but they are none the less in danger, for there are critical periods all along their pathway when the utmost precaution is required. The innumerable complaints called female weaknesses; the irregularties of life and changes of the system all indicate the perils which hang over every woman's career, and which, unless attended to may result disastriously."

"But is there no way by which these terrible throubles can be avoided?"

"That has been the problem for years. The habits of life and the demands of fashion are clearly at war with the health of women. I have been perhaps, unusually successful in my treatment of their troubles, but there have been many cases that seemed specially stubborn. I recall one in particular. I had exhausted all the usual expediencis and the results were not satisfactory. I became worried over the case and really did not know what to do, but finally thought I would try something out of the usual line. I had heard a certain remedy recommended very highly and so I procured some and made a chemical analysis of it I found it was perfectly pure, and that the ingredients were unusually valuable. So I began giving it to my patient, changing it, however, into a bottle of my own. To my great joy it seemed to have an almost immediate effect and a complete cure was the result. Since then I have used it constantly in my practice and have cured every form of female weakness, as well as displacements, dropsical tumors, callu dropsy and all such troubles, I have also used it with the best of results in cases of pregnancy and gestation. Indeed I have found it of untold value and benefit."

"Have you any objection to giving me the name of this remedy of which you speak?"

"None whatever. It is Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure."

"Why, that is a proprietary medicine!"

"Certainly, but what of that? I have but one end in view in the treatment of my patients namely—their restoration to health. In the accomplishment of this end I prescribe what I believe to be beneficial, no matter what the professional consequences may be."

"I notice in the New York papers that Doctors Hammond, Agnew and other prominent physicians are taking a similar stand, Mrs. Wingate."

"Yes, and all independent thinkers in the profession are bound to do so. I am, however, on the best of terms with my professional brethren as you can see," and the lady produced a beautiful gold medal mounted in the form of a badge which had been presented her by the medical society, known as the Ensign of the Hundsh Family, of which she is a prominent member. After examining it closely, the reporter remarked that the medical profession evidently were proud of what she had done as she might well be in the possession of such a meda'."

"I am proud of that," she replied, "and I was also pleased a short time since to receive an offer at a large salary to take the professorship in the new medical college at Walla Walla, on the Pacific coast. I do not know how they heard of me out there, but I was obliged to decline their offer."

"And so, in your experience with the diseases of women, you have found success, and that Warner's Safe Cure has been a most efficient remedy."

"Yes, I have had unusual success and the remedy of which you speak has been proven of great benefit. There are, however, some base imitations of it to be found in the market; these are bad and should be avoided, but the genuine remedy is one of the very best."

"And has not the practice of your profession injured your health?"

"No, I am better now than ever before in my life. I froze my limbs last winter, while riding one cold night to see a patient and was obliged to remain indoors for over two months. Otherwise I am healthy, as you see by looking at me.

"And may I publish this interview, Mrs. Wingate?"

"Yes. If what I have told you should be the means of assailing any women who may be suffering, I shall be perfectly willing to have it published."

Just now a very striking and curious suggestion is made and that is that wire gauze, if incorporated in the floors, ceilings and partition walls of buildings, will render them impervious to flame, and so very greatly diminish the danger of fires. A slow burning building is practically as safe, so far as regards the risk of life to its inmates, as a fire-proof building—in other words, a building that is combustible need not, therefore, be inflamable. The principle involved is the same which Sir Humphrey Davy applied in the safety lamp by which a light may be carried without danger through gases which an unprotected light would at once explode. There seems no theoretical reason why this expedient should not prove to be of great value, and it has the practical advantage of being very cheaply and easily applied. It is to be hoped that experiments may be made which will thoroughly test the value and the applicability of this device.

An abused debtor: "The very next time I meet you," exclaimed an angry man to a passer-by, "I'll whale you till you can't stand up." "What is the matter?" asked an acquaintance. "You see, I owe the fellow and he persists in meeting me." "Does he insultingly remind you of your obligation by speaking of it in the presence of others?" "No, he never says anything." "Then what right have you to complain?" Why, he knows that it is embarrassing for me to meet him, that it makes me feel bad, but when he sees me coming he doesn't get out of my way. Why doesn't he leave town until I pay him?"

PROF. W. H. MOORE,
Weldon, N. C.

Craven, Co., October 15, 1881.

Prof. Wm. H. Moore—Dear Sir.—This is what I have to say: I have been suffering with a very large wen on the back of my neck. I suffered, oh! how I suffered, the pain it gave me no mortal man can tell. For 26 years I was in this condition; I could not even get on my knees to pray; I had to sit up in my chair. My owners, to whom I belonged, tried every physician that was around, but found no relief. After which they concluded it was incurable. Hearing of the new Dr. Wm. H. Moore, I thought I would try once more, I did so, and can go on my knees now as good ever. It has gone entirely and I am now well as ever.

Goldsboro, N. C., Dec. 12, 1881.

To the Public—This is to certify that I had a very bad leg, cut clear to the bone. The cut was two and a half inches deep; my leg was so swolen it was impossible for me to get about, in fact, I could not walk. The Doctor and many of my friends said my leg would have to be amputated. Of course that I refused to have done. Hearing of Prof. Wm. H. Moore, I sent for him to examined my leg and see what he could do for it. He told me he would make a permaneut cure in a month's time, without using an instrument or sewing. He has cured my leg as sound as ever, by using his celebrated medicines namely, O. K. Liniment, Tree of Life, Willing Salve. And beyond the shadow of a doubt it is the best medicine I have ever taken in my life. It kills all the pain in the human system. I recommend it as being all that it is claimed to be.

GIVEN UP TO DIE BY HER FRIENDS
SCALD HEAD AND SCROFULA.

Tarboro, Edgecombe County N. C., April 15th, 1881.

In my young days I was wild and careless and became the victim of a loathsome disease; I was treated by eminent physicians, and used various patent medicines, all to no purpose; had ulcers in my throat and mouth, and on different parts of my body. I could not use my hands nor feet. I also became afflicted with the Rheumatism, and I employed different physicians of the Town, and as last I used Prof. Wm. H. Moore's O. K. Liniment, Tree of Life, Liver and Kidney Pills, and Willing Salve and Fever Mixture and I am now entirely well. I was badly worried with the blood disease over seven years, and many persons told me not to use Prof. W. H. Moore's remedies; but I heeded them not, and now I gladly recommend his medicines as a sure cure for all similar diseases. I am as well now as ever before

Prof. Wm. H. Moore—Dear Sir.—This is to certify that I suffered for two years with roaring in the head, and also toothache. I tried everything that I was told to try, but found no relief. Hearing of Prof. Wm. H. Moore's great remedies, I referred to him immediately. I can say now that I am well and clear of the disease as ever.

[Cure of a bad case of Scrofula on the face.

Wilmington, N. C., Feb. 10th, 1881.

Prof. Wm. H. Moore—Dear Sir—I think it a duty I owe to you and my fellow creatures who are suffering, to make known the wonderful effects your medicines have had on me, hoping all who are troubled with humor in their blood will give it a trial. I am confident from practical experience that if persons will follow the directions and give it a fair trial, that it will cure any one that has disease of like character. I suffered with scrofula for 19 years; the pain it gave me no mortal man knows. I was in agony all of the time. I used to think that I did not use every remedy, and let any pass, that was the very one that would cure me. But at last the angel appeared in your great medicines, and I am most happy to state that your remedies have done the work for me. It is the great blessing, and I am now as free from the disease as I was before I was taken with it.

Tarboro, N. C., March 2nd, 1881.

Prof. Wm. H. Moore,—Dear Sir: This is to certify that I have been blind in both eyes for eighteen years, and also subject to fits for the same length of time. I tried all the doctors around and was never relieved of either of the complaints until Almighty God sent Prof. W. H. Moore to Tarboro. From the time he commenced working on me I commenced to get better, and now I have no fits at all, and I can see as well as any one. I am well known in this county of Edgecombe.

Solitude.

[Ella Wheeler, in the New York Sun]

Laugh, and the world laughs with you;
Weep, and you weep alone
For the sad old earth must borrow its mirth,
But has trouble enough of its own.
Sing, and the hills will answer;
Sigh, it is lost on the air.
The echoes bound to a joyful sound,
But shrink from voicing care.

Rejoice, and men will seek you;
Grieve and they turn and go.
They want full measure of all your pleasure,
But they do not need your woe.
Be glad, and your friends are many;
Be sad, and you lose them all.
There are none to decline your doctored wine,
But alone you must drink life's gall

Feast and your halls are crowded;
Fast and the world goes by.
Succeed and give, and it helps you live.
But no man can help you die.
There is room in the halls of pleasure,
For a large and lordly train.
But one by one we must all file on
Through the narrow aisles of pain.

Abolition in Brazil.

The movement for the extinguishment of slavery in Brazil continues to acquire new force, and the time, perhaps, is not far distant when freedom will be as complete in that country as it is in the United States. It is well known that the emperor, Dom Pedro, is well disposed toward emancipation, and that every advance toward an end so desirable commands his sympathy and concurrence. The abolition movement originated in the province of Ceara, and has grown until free labor has become the rule rather than the exception. The aversion to slavery among the people of this province is both pronounced and energetic.—Through their emancipation society they have declared against the export of slaves to the coffee districts, and so strong has this feeling become that no master of a packet will consent to take a slave on board. Some time ago an attempt was made to ship one in a steamer's boat, and although the man was protected by police, the people rescued him by force. So far as their own province is concerned they have broken up the business of the slave traders, and are now turning their attention to the overthrow of slavery in other directions. Their activity has stirred up the emancipation society of Rio Janeiro, and within the past few weeks the clergy has promised to assist in bringing about the freedom of the thirty or forty thousand slaves owned in that city. Thus the good work progresses, and the day is coming when every foot of soil of this continent will be dedicated to freedom.

The New Tariff Law.

The Treasury department has mailed copies of the new tariff act to all collectors of customs, together with instructions that sections 7 and 9 of the act go into effect at once, and apply to all goods in bonded warehouses, as well as to goods imported after the date of the passage of the act. Section 7 repeals duties on charges heretofore added in ascertaining the dutiable value of merchandise for the purpose of the assessment of duties. This action will cause considerable reduction in the amount of duties collected, which reduction is estimated by some at 5 per cent. of the entire amount collected. Section 9 of the tariff act changes the manner of ascertaining the value of merchandise consigned by manufacturers in foreign countries to agents in the United States, and for which there is no foreign market value for the reason that the goods are specially manufactured for sale in the United States only. The law authorizes the appraising officer to ascertain the cost and value of the material composing the merchandise at the time and place of manufacture, together with the expense of manufacturing, preparing, and putting up the merchandise for shipment, and makes the value so ascertained a basis for the assessment of duties.

THE LEADING SCIENTISTS OF TO-DAY agree that most diseases are caused by disordered Kidneys or Liver. If, therefore, the Kidneys and Liver are kept in perfect order, perfect health will be the result. This truth has only been known a short time and for years people suffered great agony without being able to find relief. The discovery of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure marks a new era in the treatment of these troubles. Made from a simple tropical leaf of rare value, it contains just the elements necessary to nourish and invigorate both of these great organs, and safely restore and keep them in order. It is a POSITIVE remedy for all the diseases that cause pains in the lower part of the body—for Torpid Liver—Headaches—Jaundice—Dizziness—Gravel—Fever—Ague—Malarial Fever, and all difficulties of the Kidneys, Liver and Urinary Organs.

A STORY OF THE GREAT SMOKER.

Why Gen. Grant's Popularity Among Soldiers Never Wanes.

I met a man the other day called "Soldier Sam," an honest fellow, and one of the true blue boys of the late war. He had served under Grant and could tell reminiscences of the great general by the hour. The best of it was that his stories were always authentic. I remember, said he, that while we were down on the Mississippi a big barge loaded with bombs and gunpowder was lying alongside the wharf. Grant had given orders that no one should smoke on board that barge. I suppose the old tub had thousands of dollars' worth of powder under her decks. So the corporal set a guard there and ordered him to shoot the first man who should cross the plank with a lighted pipe or cigar. Well, when the word got abroad we kept away, for we knew that the order meant business. One day, when I was off duty General Grant rode up on his horse. He wore a big blouse and a slouch hat. He had no star, no side arms. We all knew him without the aid of trinkets.

"Is that the powder boat?" he asked.

I told him it was.

He looked at me sharply over a red-hot cigar, and said: "I'll go on board, then."

I knew he never take that cigar out of his mouth except to eat or sleep, so I said: "General, if you walk across that plank smoking, the sentry will shoot you."

He saw that I was in earnest, but he said: "Don't you suppose he knows me?"

"Of course he does, Generall," I replied. "But he's been ordered to shoot the first man caught smoking on that barge, and he'll do it. That's the kind of chap he is."

Grant looked rather amused. I reckon he never intended to go near the old barge. He just wheeled his horse about, and away he went.

That evening I told the sentry all about the talk. The next morning he and the corporal were ordered up to the General's headquarters. The sentry was a black man; but when he heard that Grant wanted to see him he was rather white. He went up.

"Can you read?" asked Grant.

"No, sah; I nebber had no chance to l'a'n."

"Do you always know me when you see me?"

"Yes, sah."

"Suppose I had gone on board that powder boat with a lighted cigar, what would you have done?"

"Shot you, sah."

"But I am your general!" exclaimed Grant.

"Yes, sah; and we jes' obeys yo' orders," said the sentry.

Grant looked the men all over. The corporal was trembling, and the sentry was actually pale; but both were as firm as rocks. At last the general relaxed. "Well, sir" he said to the negro, "we'll make you a corporal; and this other man shall be a sargeant. I promote these men"

"I tell you we didn't forget that," said Soldier Sam.
